October 4, 2026 – Guest Speaker Angel Freire The People Right in Front of Us

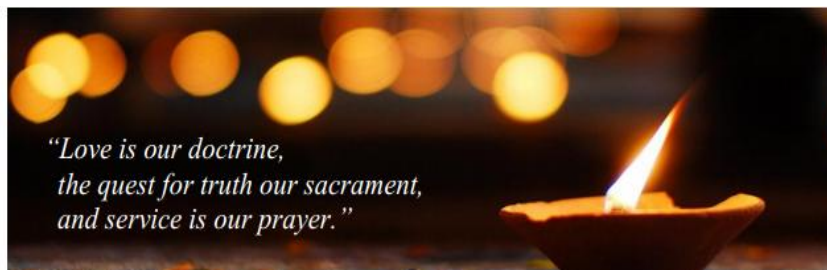

"Humanism is, at its core, a practice of presence. A choice to focus on the world we can see, the neighbors we can reach, the suffering we can actually reduce." Fish Stark, Executive Director of the American Humanist Association and a lifelong Unitarian Universalist, celebrates the shared roots of humanism and Unitarian Universalism and invites us to rediscover the radical joy of choosing people over abstractions and outcomes over ideals in a special video presentation. It promises a lively discussion.

A practice of presence: No Kings Rally in Hendersonville

October 18, 2026 – Ernie Mills

"Back to Nature"

"Nature" is an abstract concept we use to describe what is in essence a profound mystery and wonder. We think of it as trees, rivers, mountains, birds, butterflies and everything outside of ourselves. But nature is within us as well and there is a deep connection between ourselves and the natural world outside of us. For some of us, nature is just another word for God. In this reflection we will explore ways we can reconnect to the wonder and beauty of nature.
